

Trail Report

June 24 – July 1, 2022

Updated: June 24, 2022

ADDITIONAL TRAIL INFORMATION: The trails are dry, but be aware random muddy spots remain. The trails are very susceptible to rain right now, so if it rains, please give the trails a day to dry out before use. This is especially true with Uplands & Ralphs Pass. Please be kind to the trails as patience now will pay off for the rest of the summer. Wildlife is out and about, so be aware and make some noise. The higher elevations still are melting out. If it gets muddy, please turn around.

Be bear aware when out recreating and carry your bear spray!

Trail Name	Trail Conditions
	Closed	Mud	Wet	Snow/Ice	Dry	Open
Community Park
Little Willow Way					X
Black Diamond					X
Crail Trail					X
Mountain
Mountain to Meadow					X
Meadow
Uplands					X
Hummocks					X
Ralphs Pass					X
Ousel Falls					X
Ousel Falls Road					X
Spruce Cone					X
South Fork					X
Lone Peak Trail					X
Canyon
Gallatin Trail					X
Mud Creek (Michener)					X

REMINDERS: The wildlife of Big Sky are out and about, please be aware when out hiking, walking and biking. Carry Bear spray and recreate in a group.

Due to changing weather conditions, trail conditions can rapidly change. Please use this information as a guide and be prepared with proper gear and use caution when using trails.